fellowship took place in the 25 years the cafeteria served as a part of our camp and camp meeting experience. Tearing it down brought some sadness; however, as we removed the beams, the full extent of their rotted nature was revealed, confirming that we had made the right decision to erect a new building. A heavy snow this winter could have collapsed the whole dining room.

Construction on the cafeteria has already begun! The footings and foundations are already in, and the rough-in plumbing, electrical and heating will be installed shortly. All preparations will be finished before the Maranatha team arrives on October 5 to begin putting up walls and adding the roof. If you're interested in being one of the helping hands that will make our new "Fireside Lodge" a reality by camp meeting 2004, volunteers are needed both during Maranatha's work and throughout the winter and spring. If you would like to assist Maranatha (October 5-18), please contact them directly (www.maranatha.org). If you are able to help out other times during the year, please contact Jim Johnson at: 608-296-1553.

Thank you for your prayer and financial support for a center that will benefit many in the years to come. Those who would like to keep up with the progress can see pictures at www.wakonda.org and click on the "Building to Serve" logo.

Wisconsin Academy Enrollment for 2003-2004

Wisconsin Academy started the year off strong with 113 students enrolled. This turnout was a result of the sacrificial giving of committed Christians. WA staff gave up vacations and departmental needs. WA Alumni gave of their earnings. If Wisconsin Academy is to remain a place where all students, regardless of financial need, can receive a Christian education, it will need the support of those willing to sacrifice for it. You too can experience the joy of giving a young person the gift of Christian education. To find out how sacrificial giving can change lives, give us a call at (920) 623-3300. For more on the year's miraculous start at WA, see page 5.

Radical Christianity in a Changing World

Terrorism is changing the face of our society. How do we battle an enemy we cannot see? How do we prepare for attacks that can happen anywhere in so many different ways? There are many in our world today whose life goal is to die a martyr's death. Thousands of children in radical Islam movements like Hamas are trained to regard martyrdom as the most glorious religious objective.

Christians too have died martyrs' deaths. There is a fundamental difference in the tactics of both religions—Christianity sees its warfare as spiritual.

Christians seek to defeat the forces of the enemy through the power of the Holy Spirit. We advance our cause by the power of God's Spirit and appealing to people's hearts.

Islam from its inception has used military conquest as a means of spreading their religion. Many Muslims believe that Allah calls them to fight to their death against the godless forces in the west—that eliminating people and destroying the power of the West will make it possible for Islam to succeed in spreading throughout the world.

How should we respond to this growing threat in the world? I am now talking spiritually and not politically. We must realize that God is still superintending our world. The message of Revelation is that Christ will defeat all opposing forces. The trinity of evil—the dragon, beast and false prophet—all will be destroyed. Christ doesn't ask us to eliminate people through warfare but to help convert their hearts to Him.

1 Corinthians 15:25 says that, "... He must reign till He has put all enemies under His feet."

Today Christ appeals to each of us to be His subjects. He invites us to belong to His kingdom. He seeks us to believe and belong. His cause will be advanced through us. First, we must have radical devotion to Christ. This means that following His will is our life's greatest priority. We believe the Bible to be the written expression of His will, so we daily saturate our minds with its message. Our lifestyle is the living demonstration of the power of God. This is the attraction of Christianity. Our commitment is to share the Christian message with urgency and self-sacrifice. This is our response to the great gospel commission.

In an age of terrorism, when Satan is spreading his spirit of rage and fear in the world, will we take this opportunity to help unleash the power of His love? If we do, millions will see the contrast and be attracted to Christ.

This takes radical devotion to Christ; half hearted devotion doesn't attract people's attention to God.

Let's be radically devoted to Christ.

Don Corkum, President

Sow 1 Billion

Sow 1 Billion is a project which is unprecedented in modern history, as 2/3 of the world's population will be blanketed with a pamphlet conveying a Christ-centered message and inviting them to study the Bible. Five million dollars has been donated to print one billion pamphlets worldwide, twenty-five million of which will be here in the United States.

The Wisconsin Conference has been assigned 150,000 pamphlets but is negotiating with the North American Division to have half a million. The pamphlets would be available this fall. A one per cent return on half a million cards would result in 5,000 Bible study requests coming to our churches. In order for these to be effectively followed-up, there must be Bible study training provided for our church members.

The Wisconsin Conference is providing a DVD by Don and Marge Gray for each church which gives in-depth instruction on how to conduct an effective Bible study. If your church has not received this training DVD and you wish to use it, contact Don Corkum or Kitty Crary at the Wisconsin Conference office.

The Sow One Billion project is designed to help prepare for evangelism 2004, when 150,000 evangelistic meetings will take place worldwide. We are hoping for 150 meetings in our conference. The world is in desperate need of the message of the Bible. We hope you will plan to participate in these outreaches for God.

Biggest Training Event in Lake Union

Thousands Expected for "Hope for Our Day" Evangelism Training

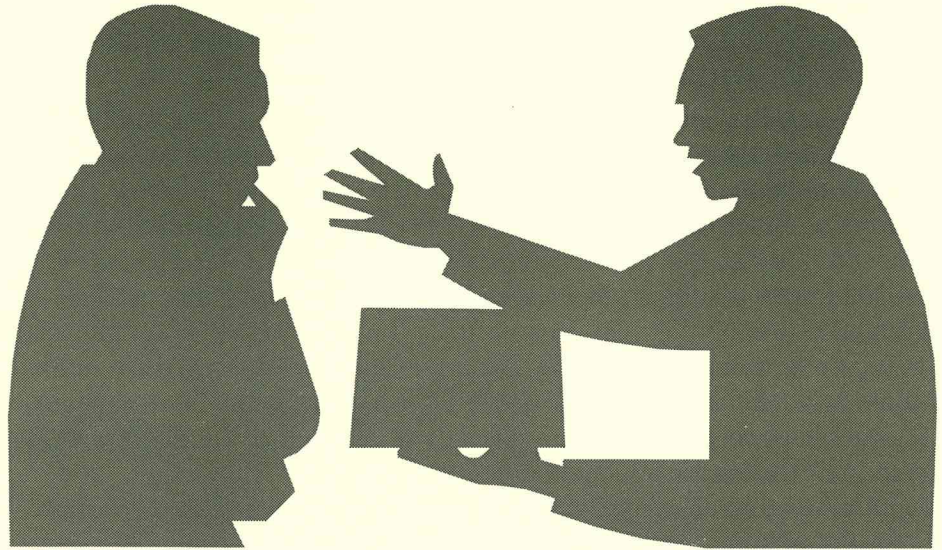

If there was one weakness in the Hope for the Homeland evangelism outreach, it was the preparation—Not the preparation by the preachers of the message—our presenters did outstanding work! It was the "preparation of the field."

No farmer expects a harvest where he has not sown seed. As it is in the natural world, so it is in the spiritual. "The preparation of the field" in evangelism is the groundwork done in the hearts of interested persons. This is the greatest work given to humanity and requires the greatest care.

The Lake Union Conference will sponsor a training event October 24-26 in South Bend, Indiana, to train workers in evangelism preparation. This huge gathering of pastors and lay people (forecasts suggest over 1,500 attendees) will feature learning tracks in:

- ◆ Personal Evangelism
- ◆ Media Witnessing (tracts, videos, internet Bible studies, etc.)
- ◆ Child & Youth Evangelism
- ◆ Health Evangelism
- ◆ Family Evangelism
- ◆ Sequence Evangelism
- ◆ Spanish Language Evangelism

Anyone can register to attend by going online to Plusline.org or by calling 800-732-7587 and registering for the Lake Union Training. Registration for the training event is $25 ($35 after 10/1) and includes training materials, Sabbath lunch, and Sunday breakfast. The South Bend Marriot Hotel is offering a special convention rate of $83/room per night but you must register early (call 800-328-7349)! We estimate costs to be approximately $140 for the entire weekend excluding travel (double occupancy).

The Wisconsin Conference will provide a $65 sponsorship to individuals who meet the following criteria:

1. Your local church has voted to sponsor you with at least $50 funding toward the total cost of the weekend
2. You make provision to be at the whole weekend training (Friday night 7 p.m. to noon Sunday)
3. You covenant to initiate your ministry for Evangelism 2004 by January 1, 2004.

Wisconsin Conference will also offer you the following travel assistance:

If you live in Stevens Point, Wisconsin or further south:

- ◆ and you have two or less sponsored individuals in your car, you receive $25

- ◆ If there are three or more sponsored individuals in your car, you receive $100

If you live north of Steven's Point, Wisconsin:

- ◆ and you have two or less sponsored individuals in your car, you receive $50
- ◆ If there are three or more sponsored individuals in your car, you receive $150

In this seminar, you will receive instruction . . . but there will also be inspiration. You will gain new insight and information . . . but the Holy Spirit blessing will be greater.

Don't delay! Call PlusLine today and register for this in-depth, instructional seminar.

Christian Education in Wisconsin

K-10 School Updates

The 2003-04 school year opened August 18 with 17 K-10 schools, 29 teachers and a total of 283 students. This represents a student/teacher ratio of less than 10:1. No wonder our school achievement test averages are in the top 25% of all schools nationwide!

We are happy that we had but a few changes in our teaching staff this year. Only two new teachers needed to be hired to replace those moving to other fields. Mr. Steven Champion has been hired to serve as principal/teacher of the Maranatha School in Lena, where he has lived for most of his life. Mr. Champion felt that the Lord was leading him to leave his job as a fitness trainer and enter into a ministry of teaching. He completed his training in December and was available when the opening occurred in Lena. Mr. Carl Wilkerson, who has served in administrative and teaching positions for the past 5 years in the Northeastern U.S., has accepted the position as principal/teacher at the Green Bay Jr. Academy. The Wisconsin Conference teaching staff is dedicated not only to ministry for God's children but also to professional development. 14 of our teachers were enrolled in school this past summer, the majority of which were working on Masters degrees. 10 of our 29 teachers already have an MA degree and 2 more will complete their graduate degree by December. Spread the word! Wisconsin teachers are highly qualified to do the work the Lord has called them to do!

The focus of the conference teaching staff this year will be not only to help students grow academically, but also spiritually. It is our goal to help God's children recognize His unconditional love for them and create in them a desire for a personal relationship with the Lord. This is vital to both the spiritual and the academic development of the students. Support your teachers in this effort by your prayers and by offering your talents to help enrich the program for the future leaders of our church.

Adventist Disaster Response

Forty people from Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin convened at Broadview Academy in LaFox, Illinois from July 18-20, 2003 for the purpose of disaster response. The 40 participants learned about appropriate Disaster Response should a disaster ever occur in their local area. Steps 1 through 5 of the disaster response training were presented by Gaylord and Derri Hanson, Michigan Disaster Response Assistant Coordinators; Kathryn Ratliff, Indiana Disaster Response Coordinator; and Royce Snyman, Michigan Disaster Response Coordinator and Lake Union ACS Director.

Eight people from Wisconsin attended the training and completed the five training steps to prepare themselves for an actual disaster. We are thankful that the Lord has blessed Wisconsin with a nice summer and little dangerous weather, but it's good to be prepared!

Floyd Brock, Community Services Director

Your Vehicles Are Working

Since the first promotion of the Wisconsin Academy Vehicle Donation Program at Camp Meeting 2002, WA has received 14 vehicles, 2 mopeds, and 1 camper. Of that number, 9 have been sold and over $5,000 deposited into the Worthy Student Fund. Praise God!

Students are still working on the remaining vehicles, but WA can use more donations. If you are interested in supporting Christian education and have a used vehicle that you would like to donate, call Floyd Brock at 920-623-2055.

The truck, Chevrolet Suburban and mini-van shown below are just samples of the vehicles available (photos are often kind to older automobiles—call to get the real information on these vehicles)

Christian Education in Wisconsin

Miracles in a Wisconsin Cornfield

As Wisconsin Academy registration drew closer this summer, applications for enrollment began filling the registrar's office. Although this is usually cause for great rejoicing, this year we trembled. Almost twice as many students were requesting financial aid to attend school in the fall as the previous year. A large portion of those applying were juniors or seniors. The stories were heartbreaking—parents out of work due to serious illness; families with multiple children in SDA church schools; students working hard all summer to earn their entrance fees; families in need, all trying their best to make ends meet, all wanting the best for their children.

The treasurer sharpened his pencil. After tiresome calculations, he proposed cutbacks in unnecessary school expenses, like buying our own mouse traps and cancelling pest control services, making our own gluten instead of buying ready-made veggie food. The list went on until a $20,000 savings was realized, all of which went to the Worthy Student Fund.

The rejoicing was short lived, however, as financial aid requests kept pouring in. This time, staff members came forward. Some changed their vacation plans and gave their vacation money to help pay a student's tuition. Some requested that routine maintenance work not be done in their departments this year and the money be put toward worthy student funds. Others committed to make monthly payments on tuition bills.

By registration day $87,800 in donations and pledges had been given to help WA offer Christian education to all students who desired it.

Are the students thankful? One is so ecstatic that in his eagerness, he has shown up to work early nearly every day this week. Some cried when they were told the good news that they would be able to return after all. Conversations I've overheard between students this week have included statements like these, "I love reading the Bible." "I'm so glad to be here. I like it so much better than the public school I was at." "I thought it would take a long time to make friends but I already have three."

In a world where crime, despair, and unrest are the norm, there is a little tiny patch of joy in a Columbus, Wisconsin cornfield called Wisconsin Academy. If you haven't seen a walking miracle in your life, if you think God doesn't do big things anymore, if you need to sense God's presence, come out to our cornfield and let us share with you the story of God's miraculous answers to prayer.

*Laura Hokanson
Development Director
Wisconsin Academy*

The annual mud slide is just one of the fun and educational pursuits at Wisconsin Academy

The week before registration, 10 students were still being denied admission due to a lack of financial aid. Teachers who had been praying all summer, staff members who had sacrificed departmental needs, and students who were looking forward to seeing friends now faced the sad reality that the resources were just too limited to give to all. But God still works miracles for His children, even when human hope has failed.

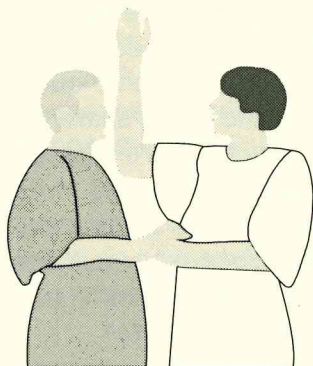

Three days before registration, money began coming in. First, an alumnus who had heard nothing of our needs called to see if the school had a use for $1,000. Principal John Thomas and Treasurer Paul Johnson gave detailed presentations of the worthy student needs, resulting in more donations.

Evangelism - 2004 and Beyond

We are already hearing exciting reports from around Wisconsin:

- Rice Lake Church laypeople are conducting 2 evangelistic meetings this fall with more on the calendar for 2004
- Watertown Church holds its first evangelistic series in years led by Pastor Ric Swaningson
- Milwaukee Central Church is planning five lay evangelistic meetings in 2004 with Pastor Mills conducting a sixth
- Madison East elders' meeting focused on lay evangelism with local elders eager to hold meetings to plant a new church
- The Monroe Church is launching into public evangelism in late September with Elder Dick Habenicht preaching
- Our president, Elder Corkum, will hold a full four week series in Steven's Point in October
- The 4 churches of the Portage District are starting a 3 phased evangelistic push with 36 evangelistic sermons on TV
- In 2004, the Monroe Church will host the first evangelistic series in Wisconsin with a female preacher as Lisa Isensee leads out.

The Holy Spirit is mobilizing men and women, pastors and lay members, to share the good news of Jesus all over our state and to countries far beyond our borders:

- Three pastors and over 25 lay people traveled to Mexico in March to build a church by day and to preach in public evangelistic meetings by night.
- Five pastors and 25 lay people will lead in a church building program in Romania in October during daylight hours but when the sun fades, they will change garments and work for souls in a nine day reaping evangelistic meeting.
- Milwaukee Central Church members will travel in November to a remote mountain village in the Philippines to provide basic health needs and conduct a reaping evangelistic series

While evangelistic fervor is building in Wisconsin by His Spirit, the Lord seems to have something special in store for 2004. Hope for Our Day is title of the Lake Union Conference's evangelism emphasis for next year. We anticipate well over 700 evangelistic meetings beginning on or about September 11, 2004 (yes, it is the anniversary of 9-11). Our goal in Wisconsin is to hold over 150 evangelistic meetings in the fall of 2004.

But this is more than a Lake Union venture: around the world, the General Conference is promoting evangelism to begin at this same time. Official estimates suggest upward of 150,000 public evangelistic meetings in the fall of 2004. And Wisconsin will be a leader in this worldwide outreach!

Evangelism is more than the meetings and is an element in all that the church does. Youth, Sabbath School, Christian Education, Health and Stewardship all accomplish their goals and they are a part of a successful evangelistic work - that is their ultimate focus.

If you would like to be part of this exciting work, it will take training and preparation. The Lake Union Conference is offering excellent training on the weekend of October 24-26 in South Bend, IN (see related story on page 3). You may wish to make a donation for Evangelism 2004 or an ongoing stream of charitable gifts so that this work can go forward. If you want to know how you can be a part, contact James Fox at 608-241-5235 or jfox@wi.adventist.org.

Whatever you do and in whatever way you do it, do your part! God has commissioned this work to every believer. Let us share in the joy of the harvest to the glory of God.

(Matt 9:37-38 KJV) "Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the laborers are few; {38} Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest."

Snapshots of Summer

Picture this...

An 11-year old boy taking every available free moment at camp, not to play or make mischief, but to read Desire of Ages. A boys unit committing to read their Bibles for 15 minutes a day for two weeks. A group of counselors huddled in a circle praying with a burden in their hearts to guide campers to know and love Jesus.

These are simply snapshots of the ministry that took place at Camp Wakonda this summer. The 286 campers who came to camp enjoyed horseback riding, chemistry, ceramics, water-skiing, model rockets, and many other activities offered by caring staff members. Highlights of the summer included teen outposts where teens were able to choose an over-night trip for horseback riding, canoeing, survival camping, rock climbing or water-skiing.

The word is getting out about Wakonda Family Camp, whose attendance almost doubled from last year's. The families at camp enjoyed the regular activities together as families: canoeing, swimming, climbing, skiing, ceramics, leathercraft and many more.

This summer, over 50 young people chose to study for baptism, and many others chose to accept Jesus as their personal Savior. What a blessing to have a staff of youth who love Jesus, and demonstrate that Jesus is the best friend a camper can have.

Budding Scientists

If you are home schooling children in grades 5-

WPGR AND WWJP ON AIR IN THE LAKES

On July 23, 2003, Clear Lake Christian Radio, a new low-power FM station, began broadcasting seven days a week, 24 hours a day. The station is a satellite of LifeTalk Radio located in Vonore, Tennessee.

LifeTalk airs Bible-based, Christ-centered programming, focusing especially on an interactive talk format, meeting human needs; and featuring presentations from various Christian ministries, including health, family, and financial experts. Programming is balanced with inspirational hymns performed by many well-known gospel musicians, such as Steven Curtis Chapman, Michael Card, and Steve Green.

"Connecting people with Christ" is the goal of the LifeTalk radio ministry. Hoping to reach people of all ages, the station provides several children's programs such as the ever-popular "Your Story Hour." Associated Press news is broadcast at the top of every hour to keep people informed of current events.

WPGR (We Praise God Radio) may be heard at 105.7 LPFM within a radius of 14 miles from its headquarters 5 miles east of Clear Lake.

Local listeners seeking an alternative station in Rice Lake will now have access to 101.7 WWJP, another low-power broadcasting station that began programming on June 7, 2003. WWJP, or Walk With Jesus Programming, is an outreach that is broadcast from the music room in Meadow Creek Adventist School through a 120-foot tower directly behind the school building. The station is part of the 3 Angels Broadcasting Network and airs Christian music, cooking and health shows, and local church services.

Members of the Clear Lake church break ground for WPGR on Sunday, May 18. Inscribed on the top of the antenna are the words, "Let this be a tool for the Lord Jesus Christ." New station WPGR may be heard in the Clear Lake vicinity at 105.7 LPFM and new station WWJP may be found at 101.7 LPFM in the Rice Lake district.

Home-Cookin' and Healthy Livin'

Teamwork and prayer was the formula for success at the Rice Lake Vibrant Life Cooking School, held from August 10-14. The Rice Lake church conducted the five night seminar in an effort to introduce the principles of healthy living as a means of transforming a life ridden with disease and illness. Seminar attendance averaged 40 persons per night, and the church members distributed over 70 health packets containing a copy of Vibrant Life Magazine.

The seminars included health lectures by various experts in the health field, including Dr. Eric Shadle, a CHIP coordinator for Rockford, Illinois, and Theresa Wilson of Earth's Harvest Natural Foods in Thompsonville, Illinois. In addition to the information-packed lectures, the audience also got to sample tasty treats from a number of presentations, including scrambled tofu, fruit pizza, lemon pie, and tofu stuffed pasta shells.

The seminars concluded with a banquet prepared by Wilson and the kitchen staff which included Ribbon Quiche, Sprouted Wheat Bread, and tofu-stuffed pasta shells. The meetings (and the food!) was received enthusiastically by nearly all attendees.

Oxford church member honored by Federal Correction Institute

On May 29, 2003, the Federal Correctional Institute of Oxford, Wisconsin honored Dale Mishleau and Gary Hixon as "Volunteer Group of the Year" for their work in the Oxford facility. The award was presented to Mishleau by Jerome Zuercher, Associate Warden of Programs at the Institute's annual volunteer appreciation banquet. Zuercher expressed the program's appreciation for the consistency of the Oxford church volunteers in coming to visit the prison on a weekly basis.

The Oxford SDA church has been involved in prison ministry for over 20 years, beginning with Everett Edminister in 1981 and carried forward by Darrel Nottelson, who passed the prison ministry torch to Hixon and Mishleau. Pastor Charles Byrd is also in the process of becoming certified for ministry in the prison system.

Only in eternity will we know the results of the seeds sown through the faithful ministry of these men.

A Trip to the Fair

The churches of Beaver Dam and Columbus sponsored a booth at the Dodge County fair from August 13-17, 2003. Over 330 people stopped by the booth for health age screenings, which examines how a person's chronological age matches their health age and measures blood pressure. Cris Roy and Doug Burgess also shared an essential part of the booth ministry through their Colporteur presentations. While Cris greeted people, Doug blew balloons and created animal figures and flowers for fairgoers which was a big hit with the kids. About 500 people signed up to win a free book from the booth.

Thirty-five members from the Beaver Dam and Columbus churches participated in the booth over the 5 days of the fair. Members handed out literature, including brochures on what Seventh-day Adventists believe and health topics, as well as Wisconsin Academy calendars and bulletins. The churches plan to sponsor a booth again for the 2004 fair.

Wisconsin Academy Church Walks Through the Bible

The Wisconsin Academy Church will be hosting "Walk Through the Old Testament" on Saturday, September 20, 2003. The Pastoral Association of Ministers in Columbus is sponsoring the event, and Lutheran Bible ministers will be presenting. "Walk Through the Old Testament" begins at 9:30 a.m. and ends at 4:00 p.m. A lunch will be served in the Wisconsin Academy cafeteria.

The Wisconsin Academy Church is planning to host over 500 participants from various churches in the Columbus area, and are looking forward to having Christians from neighboring churches join us for this day of Christian fellowship.

The "Walk Through the Old Testament" is the answer to an earlier question posed during the Wisconsin Academy church's visioning planning session: how can we get people onto the Wisconsin Academy campus and to the campus church? God provided an answer through this opportunity to host the event which appeals to believers from many denominations.

Please pray that our light might shine brightly for Jesus!

Life Insurance - Life Income

You can turn your life insurance into a life income starting now. There may be some of you who bought a whole life insurance policy that has cash value. You may have bought it when your children were small and you needed that protection, but now you don't really need the life insurance.

Did you know that you could make a gift of your life insurance for a Gift Annuity agreement that would make an annuity payment quarterly for life?

For more information, call the Wisconsin Conference Planned Giving Department and ask for Elder Habenicht at (608) 241-5235.
