A Life that Preaches

"Preach in your lives the practical godliness of the faith that you believe. Let it be seen that the truth never degrades the receiver, making him rough and coarse, or fretful and impatient. Make apparent to all your patience, your kindness, your long-suffering, gentleness, compassion, and true goodness; for these graces are the expression of the character of the God whom you serve."

Ellen G. White, MS 49, 1907

LIVING THE MISSION AT KWIK TRIP

If you had asked me what my ideal job was 8 months ago I probably would have said somewhere I can use my degree, with hours to suit my schedule and an income to put my children through private, Christian school.

I knew in today's economy it would take more than a few applications to find the right job, and thought it was best to find a "meantime" job, while I applied for my dream.

I checked out the local digs like Family Video, Little Caesars and Woodmans. I even put in an application at Kwik Trip just down the road. Kwik Trip was where I ended up.

I didn't realize how much God was going to use me in this "meantime" job. What started as a short-term plan has branched out into a realization that I am exactly where God wants me.

Since being at Kwik Trip, I have handed out two Desire of Ages, shared countless joys and sorrows of my co-workers, encouraged healthy lifestyle options and found friendships that I know will last for an eternity. God loves these people and sent me to them.

I have learned that my "job" is not to find a source of income, it is to find those people around me who need the love of a Savior. God wants me on the front lines. For me, that place is Kwik Trip.

One of my favorite quotes from Desire of Ages now hits home so much more. "Jesus knows us individually, and is touched with the feeling of our infirmities. He knows us all by name. He knows the very house in which we live, the name of each occupant. He has at times given directions to His servants to go to a certain street in a certain city, to such a house, to find one of His sheep." (DA, 479)

Are you willing to go where He sends? To fulfill His calling for you and seek out His sheep from all walks of life? I know that I am.

It's not my help that I give; it's my Jesus that I live.

Camp Meeting is Ending

In just a short time camp meeting 2012 will be over. As we fill our cars with camping gear and head home, we also take home the echo of stirring sermons, renewed friendships and a commitment to faithfully reveal the love of Jesus by the way we live our daily lives.

I treasure this time we've had to fellowship and worship. I hope you will make plans to be at camp meeting again next year as we celebrate God's guidance over the past 150 years and look to the future with renewed hope.

Let's go home and "Live the Mission" this year. Draw close to God, strive to have healthy loving church families, and spread the good news of God's amazing love to everyone you meet.

Milwaukee Miracles Update

Eugene Kitney coordinates Milwaukee Miracles, a five-year evangelistic effort that includes: a chaplaincy program at the Milwaukee airport, a major reclaiming program next year with speaker Lee Venden, a Magabook program, lay-led ShareHim seminars, and more. "Even though we are just starting, the Holy Spirit is already present," says Kitney.

Today I Choose to be Baptized

It took me awhile to decide to commit myself to Jesus. The Holy Spirit reached me through my beautiful wife and many friends. I finally realize it is not that you know everything that matters. What matters is accepting Jesus in you heart and letting Him be the Guide. I'm really excited to commit myself to Jesus through baptism today and join the Raymond Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Question of the Day

WHAT IS ONE PRACTICAL THING YOU HAVE LEARNED AT CAMP MEETING THIS YEAR?

Sandy Magray

Ways to greet people at church that don't offend them.

Tola Ewers

You should buy used cars half an hour before closing time on the last day of the month when it's bad weather. You'll get a better deal.

Doreen Lowry

To identify wild herbs I can use to treat common ailments.

Joanette Suchon

I'm going to have a GLOW tract on me at all times.

Kelly Graham

Everything I own belongs to the Lord. We shouldn't manage things on our own but let God be our "Banker" and help us with financial decisions.

Dawn Rogers

We are not here just to add to the list of things we should ponder, but to get out of our ordinary routine tending to our own needs and share the message of grace with others

Sondra Muench

Be bold. If you see a need, step out and help.

Walk-for-Life Ends Today

Top church miles:

Bible Study Lead from GLOW

"At the first door there was a man who had recently been in a car accident. We gave him a Does God Care That I'm Hurting GLOW tract," said Karolyn Woodburne & Kiana Binford, who handed out GLOW tracts in Westfield with six other teams Thursday afternoon. "We prayed with him and he signed up for Bible studies." Karolyn and Kiana handed out GLOW tracts Friday also.
