Ellen G. White Devotional Thought
HELP IN DAILY LIVING

There is an eloquence far more powerful than the eloquence of words in the quiet, consistent life of a pure, true Christian. What a man is has more influence than what he says.

The officers who were sent to Jesus came back with the report that never man spoke as He spoke. But the reason for this was that never man lived as He lived. Had His life been other than it was, He could not have spoken as He did. His words bore with them a convincing power, because they came from a heart pure and holy, full of love and sympathy, benevolence and truth.

It is our own character and experience that determine our influence upon others. In order to convince others of the power of Christ's grace, we must know its power in our own hearts and lives. The gospel we present for the saving of souls must be the gospel by which our own souls are saved. Only through a living faith in Christ as a personal Saviour is it possible to make our influence felt in a skeptical world... By the power of His grace manifested in the transformation of character the world is to be convinced that God has sent His Son as its Redeemer. No other influence that can surround the human soul has such power as the influence of an unselfish life. The strongest argument in favor of the gospel is a loving and lovable Christian.

No One is Safe From Me Telling Them About Jesus

Doug and Rosemary Bruder, members of the Steven's Point SDA Church, were baptized in October of 2007. Doug was brought up in the Catholic faith and Rosemary was Lutheran.

Doug and Rosemary Bruder heard a tornado had struck Americus, Georgia. They were leaving the next morning for a vacation and thought, "Let's go down and help." Although they didn't know it, that trip would change their lives forever.

"What happened the night the tornado hit," they asked one couple in the wreckage. "We didn't have any basement or shelter," they said. So we just dropped to our knees and prayed, 'Lord, if our time has come, we're ready. Just be with us so we won't be afraid.'" That statement, expressing their simple trusting faith jolted Doug's whole being. Leaving their home Doug told Rosemary, "I don't know what's going on in me. When they told their story, I almost felt like I was having a heart attack or something." He attended church every Sunday, yet knew something wasn't right with his Christian experience. Now he couldn't get that couple's comment out of his mind.

Home from vacation, Bruders had a pile of mail, and right on top was an oversized postcard for a Daniel and Revelation Seminar. "We're going to have to go to this," said Doug. "I don't know why I feel this way, but we need to go."

When they arrived at the meeting and discovered it was being held in an Adventist church, Doug was not happy saying, "We're here for one night and one night only." The first thing the preacher said was "Open your Bible..." Doug leaned over to Rosemary and said, "Open your Bible! My church has never even let me read my Bible." Doug and Rosemary looked up every text of the sermon, and were so interested they attended every night of the series.

"That was a turning point in our lives," said Rosemary. "We became Seventh-day Adventists, sold everything we had, and have spent the past nine years traveling in our RV looking for ways to serve. We didn't plan this lifestyle, God just led us into it."

Each fall the Bruders pull out of their driveway with over 5,000 missionary tracts and pray, Lord, lead us where you need us. "The Lord orchestrates our lives", said Doug, "We try and listen to God's still small voice, and ask to see opportunities."

This is how it works. In Best Buy they meet a lady, befriend her, and over the next months help her decide not to commit suicide. They notice a child having a bad day & share a little story tract. They often call a lady from their hardware story who has cancer and prayer with her. They buy groceries when they find someone's cupboard is empty. They clean, build and repair people's homes when they see the need. They read the Bible to people in care centers.

"When you find out Bible truth, it's very hard not to want to live like this." said Rosemary. "The Bible says we are supposed to go out and be disciples to the whole world. It's become really clear in our minds that we have a mission to do right where we are. Sometimes I think I would rather be somewhere other than where we end up, but then such a blessing happens in that place I didn't want to be, and it's heartwarming. The blessings just pile up."

"The Lord sends us, shows us, and puts people in our lives," said Doug. "No one is safe from me telling them about Jesus."
