Remembering Wisconsin Pioneer Missionaries to China

Ida and Gertrude

On February 2, 1902, the first group of Seventh-day Adventist missionaries, Jacob Anderson, Emma Anderson (his wife), and Ida Thompson (his sister-in-law) arrived at Hong Kong to start work spreading the gospel in China. All three were from Wisconsin: Anderson from Poy Sippi, and the Thompson sisters from Mauston.

2013 marks the 111th anniversary of Adventism's entry to China, the most populous nation on earth. Wisconsin Conference played an important role in bringing the three-angle's message to that country. While the Andersons were funded by the General Conference, Ida Thompson was financially supported by Wisconsin Conference.

Two years later, the China Mission was officially formed in Canton (Guangzhou), with Jacob as the first president, and Emma as the secretary/treasurer. In the spring of the same year, Ida who had a special burden for the women of China, established the first Adventist school in Canton, called "Bethel Girls' School." This name was chosen because both Ida herself and the school were financially supported by Wisconsin Conference and by private donors from Wisconsin; furthermore the name of the intermediate school in Wisconsin was called "Bethel School." Later on, Ida's sister Gertrude Thompson also joined the school. Unfortunately she died of a sudden illness and was buried in China.

In 1905, another couple from Wisconsin, Benjamin and Julia (nee Peterson) Anderson, both from Poy Sippi, arrived in China, and commenced the mission work in southeast China in Amoy (Xiamen). Ben, a younger brother of Jacob, established the Meihua School in Amoy. He later became education secretary of South China Mission. Thus a total of six missionaries came from Wisconsin during the early years of China Mission.

Through the untiring efforts of the early pioneers, and the generous support of the members back home, the Seventh-day Adventist Church in China with its mission schools and hospitals continued to grow until it became among the largest protestant

Heritage of Hope

As the priests carried the ark of the covenant up from the center of the Jordan River, Joshua instructed 12 men to go back to the dry river bed and pick up stones. Those 12 stones were then taken and stacked up as memorial stones. For many years those stones would serve to remind the children of Israel of God's mighty providence in His leading them from Egypt to the promised land.

On October 3, 1863, a meeting was held in the small town of Avon, Wisconsin, (about 18 miles west of Beloit.) In that meeting our pioneers voted to organize into the "Illinois and Wisconsin State Conference of Seventh-day Adventists." They voted to become a part of the newly organized General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, which had organized just five months earlier, and adopt its constitution. And so our new conference was born with just 350 members.

Now, at our camp meeting 150 years later, we look back at the "memorial stones," markers of God's leading during these past years. Did you know that the first missionaries sent out by the General Conference to China were from Poy Sippi and Mauston, Wisconsin? Did you know that the world-wide Scandinavian work among Adventists was started in Oakland, Wisconsin? Did you know that three of our General Conference presidents had roots in Wisconsin? Did you know that at one time we had a North Wisconsin Conference and a South Wisconsin Conference?

At camp meeting this year, through sermons, skits, re-enactments, and exhibits, we will take a look back and celebrate God's leading in Wisconsin. In addition each church and school has been asked to bring an exhibit to display their own local heritage.

I invite you to be a part of this "Heritage of Hope" camp meeting as we commemorate God's leading. As we face the future, let's take courage in the words of Ellen White, "We have nothing to fear for the future, except as we shall forget the way the Lord has led us, and His teaching in our past history." ## Remembering Pioneer Missionaries... continued churches in China around 1949 when the Peoples Republic of China was formed, with a reported membership of 23,415.

My grandmother attended the Bethel Girls' School in China, and it was there that she accepted the Adventist faith at the age of 17, in 1909. Without the selfless sacrifice of our early Wisconsin pioneers, she, and many precious souls in that country, would never have had the opportunity to learn about the love of Christ.

At a time when our society (and sometimes even among church going folks) is focusing on a self-centered "what-can-they-do-for-me" mindset, it is important for us to remember the selfless spirit of our early pioneers.

How to Prepare for Camp Meeting

While preparing for the [camp] meeting each individual should closely and critically examine his own heart before God. If there have been unpleasant feelings, discord, or strife in families, it should be one of the first acts of preparation to confess these faults one to another and pray with and for one another. Humble yourselves before God, and make an earnest effort to empty the soul temple of all rubbish—all envyings, all jealousies, all suspicions, all faultfindings.

Here is a work for families to engage in before coming up to our holy convocations. Let the preparation for eating and dressing be a secondary matter, but let deep heart searching commence at home. Pray three times a day, and, like Jacob, be importunate. At home is the place to find Jesus; then take Him with you to the meeting, and how precious will be the hours you spend there.

Creation Health Comes to Camp Meeting

CREATION Health is a lifestyle training program that includes many more health aspects than food and exercise. Offered Monday through Friday during camp meeting, this transformational class is designed with a holistic approach to mental, physical and spiritual well-being.

Lynell LaMountain, CREATION Health representative for Florida Hospital, will discuss God's original plan for living life to the fullest through the eight principles of CREATION Health found in the Biblical creation story.

These principles are easily remembered through the acronym CREATION, which stands for: Choice, Rest, Environment, Activity, Trust in God, Interpersonal Relationships, Outlook, and Nutrition.

As LaMountain presents these life-giving principles, he will also be preparing his audience to hold CREATION Health seminars in their local communities.

Learning to Trust Jesus at Camp Wakonda

It was Friday night. This was the night everyone at Camp Wakonda worked and prayed for all week. We would invite each camper to give their heart to Jesus.

As the evening program ended, I handed each girl in my cabin a commitment card and spoke with them about making a decision for Jesus. When they handed the cards back, I noticed *Vanessa's was missing. I knew she had a rocky relationship with her father and needed encouragement.

Walking back to our cabin, Vanessa said, "I want to get baptized, but I'm afraid my dad won't let me. He's not an Adventist." I prayed silently, "Lord, who am I to talk to this girl about how to get along with her father? You know I only speak to mine on holidays."

Sitting on our cabin porch I decided to tell her what I wished I'd been told at her age when I faced a similar dilemma. "Vanessa, I would be lying if I said when you choose to follow God your life will get easier. It won't. It may even get harder. But this I can promise: Give your life to Jesus and He will use you to do amazing things. Stay close to Jesus and nothing, not even a father, can stand in His way." She smiled, and I left her alone to think, while I prayed for her with all my heart.

Next summer as campers began to arrive I was ecstatic to learn Vanessa was once again in my cabin. "I have something to tell you," said an excited Vanessa. "I got baptized. My dad was there and now he goes to church with me sometimes."

My heart swelled. God heard my prayers. A camper found Jesus and a camp staff learned to trust Him. Camp is outstanding. I love it.

This is a Program That Really Works

"You have to do something about your triglycerides or you're going to end up with a lot of problems." Carmon Pine could see concern in her doctor's eyes, and knew something needed to change.

"I was fed up with the pain in my back and knees," said Pine. "I was tired of being tired. That's when I prayed, 'Lord, I need your help. I can't keep living this way.'"

At lunch one day Pine noticed her friend Brenda, ordered only a salad--without the chicken. Brenda had MS and was always in pain, but now she was feeling great. "Go online and sign up for CHIP," advised Brenda. Pine attended one class and said, "Sign me up!"

"My prayers have been answered," said Pine. "I've tried it all, Weight Watchers, Atkins, Miami Beach, even cabbage soup, but they are just diets. This is a lifestyle change and I feel like a different person. It's fantastic. I tell anybody who will listen."

Sheboygan Adventurers: God's Great Army

Adventures has given Ahtziri such pride to be part of something so grand for God. As her parents we take great joy seeing her in uniform and coming out of her shell to serve God. Our younger daughter Azucena can't wait to join. To them the uniform means they are part of God's great army! We are honored to be part of the Sheboygan Shields."

Hilario and Nallely Mendoza

"I am so grateful that the Wheeler family started up the Adventure club. My son Tre is eight and shows such enthusiasm about his involvement. He is excited to wear his uniform, dedicated to each meeting, and strives to earn his patches. The Wheelers make it fun and the kids are learning spiritual growth. Family involvement is encouraged which I enjoy very much! I am so thankful and blessed."

Mari Seiler

Does your church have an Adventure Club? Come share ideas and/or learn about this program at 2:00 pm Sunday at camp meeting.

Portage District Pastor

Nester Soriano is the new Portage District pastor beginning mid-May, 2013.

Soriano completed his undergraduate in Theology at Andrews University in 2007. He then served as youth pastor at Madison East church for three years, and is now completing his M.Div. from Andrews University.

"I love preaching," says Soriano. "It excites me to see Christ change lives. I enjoy working alongside people, empowering them and helping them to use their gifts."

Soriano enjoys playing guitar, piano and singing. On July 7, 2013, he and his fiancée, Katherine Elia, plan to be married.

Early Spiritual Training Saved My Life

As a young man, Mark Clark developed a love for the Lord, attended church regularly, studied the Bible, and was baptized. He enjoyed the peace and joy that only God can give.

Through the years, however, Clark made choices that led him away from the Lord. He got caught up in the street life, getting involved in the drug and alcohol scene. Those lifestyle choices took their toll on his health and several years ago, he was hospitalized with a life-threatening illness. "God saw fit to get me to a safe place," Clark recalls.

During his hospital stay, Clark remembers talking to God and saying, "Lord, I will trust you." That was when Mark's life began to get better.

"I started going back to church as soon as I got out of the hospital, and have been going ever since," said Clark. "I remembered the joy and peace that I had when I was younger and I wanted that again."

In the last few years, much prayer, studying, support from the VA, and utilizing his education in Human Services has resulted in major changes in his life.

On April 6, 2013, Clark was re-baptized into the Southside Adventist Fellowship as a celebration of his new life in Christ. On April 8, 2013, Mark celebrated two years of sobriety. "I've learned how much God loves me," said Clark. "I don't want to be a part of the world any more, I just want to be close to God."

Today, Clark volunteers at the VA, utilizing his degree in Human Services and certification in substance abuse counseling. "I'm able to help others through the same things that I went through, and speaking at the VA helps to keep me focused."

Rachel Skaife
Southside Adventist Fellowship

Brunt Finds Freedom in Her Search for God

Gayle Brunt knew there was a God from the time she was young, but wanted something more. Her search for a deeper understanding of God led her in and out of several churches, yet she never stopped caring about Christ. "I wanted to find strength and stability in my Christian life," said Brunt. "I wanted it to be real in my life."

Brunt asked her friend, Melvin, if his pastor would study with her, and Pastor Nate Skaife agreed. "We studied hard and deep," recalls Brunt. "I got answers to the hard questions; the kind that make you grind your teeth."

Two years later, Brunt is grateful that she never gave up in her search for a deeper understanding of God. "It is such an exciting feeling to talk to others about finding Christ. I can now actually say, 'He's always there,' and know that it's true from personal experience."

On March 30, 2013, Brunt was baptized at Southside Adventist Fellowship. "I can feel the difference. I never had that kind of feeling before. It is so wonderful. Since being baptized, my mind feels lifted. I'm so happy. I just want to say, 'Hallelujah!' I feel so full."

Rachel Skaife

Chippewa Valley Hospital: A Place to Pray

Did you know there is an Adventist hospital in Durand, Wisconsin? Chippewa Valley Hospital and Oakview Care Center operate under the leadership of Adventist members Doug Peterson, President and CEO, and Pastor Art Miller, resident chaplain.

The 25-bed hospital and 50-bed nursing home looks after the needs of over 15,000 local people each year.

Chaplain Miller holds Spiritual Ambassadors classes for the staff, teaching them to listen, minister and pray with their patients. Recently an employee told Miller, "I felt like praying with a patient today, like we learned in class, but just couldn't. But you know, I think I can pray next time that happens."

Another employee commented, "I like that we have a hospital where we can be spiritual."

Miller prays every morning, "Lord, help me to be humble and make an impact for you." Then he makes rounds to visit all the employees and patients. "I just say hi, ask how they're doing, and offer to pray with them. God opens doors from there."

Wisconsin SAGE Ministry

Have you noticed yet? Have you heard the announcements? There's a whole new excitement sweeping through the conference. SAGE Wisconsin (Seniors Active for God with Enthusiasm) is up and running and gaining momentum every day. Designed to function as part social/travel club and part ministry/service organization, SAGE/Wisconsin already has plans for events and projects. Informational meetings have been held in Fox Valley, Fond du Lac, Madison and Camp Wakonda. Similar meetings are planned for Rice Lake, Green Bay, and Milwaukee. SAGE plans to be part of the 150-year celebration of our Adventist heritage at camp meeting. Don't wait to become part of the SAGE adventure. For more information call Jeff Metherell at 920-484-6555.

ASI Recognizes Miller

At the March, 2013, Lake Union ASI, Sandy Miller of Wisconsin Rapids church was recognized for providing over 70 custom made quilts and towels to the children of an orphanage in Dominican Republic. "You can't imagine the magnitude of excitement these kids had when they received the quilts," said Miller.

Christian Ronalds, Portage District pastor, has accepted a call to pastor in the Dakota Conference. Ronalds and his wife, Angela, have served in Wisconsin nearly 12 years.

Matthew Kent, pastor for the Superior District, has returned to Michigan where he will complete studies on his doctorate.

Marlin & Lynette Miller, have served in Wisconsin at W.A. and the ABC for seven years. They are now moving to the Dakota Conference; Lynette in April, Marlin in June.
