Welcome to the Wisconsin 2019 CAMP MEETING

Welcome
to Camp
Meeting 2019!

From near and far
our conference family
is gathering for our annual family reunion.
We're glad you are
here.

Many conferences
have reduced or eliminated their camp meeting. We are grateful that Wisconsin continues
in the rich tradition
of having a nine
day camp meeting
where friendships
are renewed, and commitments to Christ deepened.

Special
activities

and programs are designed for all ages.
Features include the
plenty of music, and
a special concert
by the Emmanuel Quartet. Additionally,
we have the
Hallelujah Hustle, ABC
Sunday book sale,
health and exercise
features- all capped
off with a special
baptism on the final Sabbath.

Our theme this year
is "We Would See Jesus." Ellen White
says, "The object of
camp meeting is to lead all to separate
from business cares
and burdens,
and devote
a few days

exclusively to seeking
the Lord." 2T 601

Whether you are here
for the entire time, or
just a day or two, we hope that you will be able to set aside the
cares of the world,
spend time in God's word, and see a full picture of Jesus among
the trees, cabins,
friends, activities and
meetings.

Whether Jesus is your lifelong friend, or you
have yet to discover
Him, while you are here,
may you experience
Him in a new and fresh
way.

The Battle of the Seeds Many Adventists believe that our prophetic identity began in 1844. But, we will study how our DNA is recorded long before in the Garden of Eden. To understand our final destiny we have to understand the original purpose of the people of God.

144,000 of Israel's Seed Who is this controversial group in Revelation 7 and how does it relate to the Adventist movement? An amazing study that continues to show our prophetic lineage in light of the 70-week prophecy.

Supreme Court in the Holy of Holies We will study a prophetic event that has marked the history of the Protestant movement: The Day of Atonement. We will see how this event is preparing the church and the world for the final events.

The Bride of Christ Revelation says that Christ will come to take His bride. Who is the bride of the Lamb? The answer will surprise you! We will study the history of the Protestant Reformation and our contribution to this divine movement.

The Battle of Armageddon & the Remnant Church The world seems to be heading to a tipping point and coming to an end. But first, the book of Revelation warns us about a final war that will test the faith of the professed people of God. Will I be ready?

The Trinity and Adventism The Trinity is not a product of the Roman Catholic Church but an important foundation of Adventist eschatology. Without it, we cannot explain the Church's unique teachings on the Great Controversy or the closing events of earth's history.

The Trinity and the Gospel The Trinity forms the basis of the New Testament teachings on salvation and its unique conception of God's love. The Trinitarian perspective helps us to properly understand the work of the Father in the Old Testament, the work of Christ in the Gospels, and the work of the Holy Spirit in the church and in the individual lives of the apostles and believers in the Book of Acts.

Jesus through the Eyes of John

Do They See Jesus In Me? While walking and working with Jesus, young John, the 'Son of Thunder' became a 'Child of God'. How did it happen, and how can I experience it in my life? Discover the three things that Jesus taught John that gave him his unwavering purpose in life.

Blessed Assurance Did John know for sure that he was saved? Did he have the 'blessed assurance' that he would live for eternity? Discover the powerful impact that the certainty of salvation can have on your life, as you daily abide in Jesus Christ.

That You May Believe John wrote the book of Revelation, but what did he see as the real purpose of prophecy? Today we'll discover John's beliefs about why Jesus gave us prophecies. Was it for intellectual stimulation, the building of our faith, to prove others wrong, to help us interpret the daily news or some other purpose?

Ten Out of Ten Jesus came to give all people 'life to the full'. What does that abundant life actually look like in a fallen world filled with pain, cruelty and injustice? Can we really have peace and joy when we or our family and friends are suffering? Discover what John saw in Jesus' life that gave Him perfect stability in every storm.

Especially the Closing Scenes John could have written a ton of books about his days with Jesus but he was inspired to only record 21 condensed chapters of specific messages and events. Discover why he chose the events he did and a secret message that he buried in his writings for those who dig deep.

Christ's Method Alone No matter how imaginative we may be with outreach ideas, Christ's way of evangelism should always be our primary model.

Our Greatest Need Christ longs to fill us with His Spirit, but He won't force Himself upon us. We must be willing to surrender all that blocks us from that deeper experience with Him.

The Evangelism Cycle Success in evangelism demands a definite plan. This lesson will help guide your church through the process of preparing for an evangelistic reaping meeting.

Friendship Evangelism Jesus was a master of reaching the human heart. Regardless of his or her background, every person walked away feeling loved and valued by Him. As we experience and retell the gospel story, it cannot but make an impression on all who come within our reach.

Giving Bible Studies God is calling us to be an answer to a seeker's prayer. With Bible in hand, we can bring the message of hope that others are longing to hear!

Answering Objections Everyone is on a journey of faith. Let's consider the most effective ways of responding to objections, while lifting up Jesus and reaching the heart.

Gaining Decisions for Christ How do you lead others to make a decision for Jesus? The aim is to take the fear out of asking for decisions, using the "four C's of gaining decisions."

The Gospel Presentation We will consider how to lead someone to a saving relationship with Jesus Christ and give a sound answer to the question, "What must I do to be saved?"

Nurturing New Believers The church should proclaim the gospel, but it should also establish new believers and make them disciples.

Reclaiming Missing Members Learn why former members have left the church and very practical principles for bringing them back.

PIONEER PAVILION

“Here I Am,
Send Me”

I was born in Apopka, FL, and at the time my parents were not interested in God or church. But over time, and especially after my brother was born, my parents felt God calling them to give Him another chance and they started to seek out a church. When I was four years old, after lots of searching, they were baptized into the Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church, where I began my faith journey.

When I was nine, we moved to Indiana and began attending the Glendale Seventh-day Adventist Church in Indianapolis. It was there that I got involved in Pathfinders and became a junior deacon. I studied with and was eventually baptized by Pastor Frank Haynes. It was also in Indiana, during my junior year of high school, that I started to doubt my faith in God and, in my mind, decided I was done with religion altogether. But God had other plans and He sent Pastor Charlie Thompson with an invite to work at Camp Timber Ridge, where I met Jesus and my life was changed. It was after this summer that, despite my initial disinterest in professional ministry, God called me to be a minister of the Gospel.

I took turns embracing and running from my calling throughout my college years, but I eventually earned a Bachelor's degree in Theology from Southern Adventist University. After a short tenure as part-time youth pastor and day camp director at the Apison Seventh-day Adventist Church in Tennessee, I was called to Green Bay to serve as their full-time youth pastor alongside Pastor Bill Ochs. It was also during my time in Green Bay that I met my beautiful wife, Allison--the love of my life and my wonderful partner in ministry.

After a couple of years in Green Bay, Allison and I moved to Michigan so that I could attend Andrews University Theological Seminary and earn a Master's of Divinity degree. Our first child, Arthur Michael, was also born during our time at Andrews University. While at the Seminary, I continued working part-time with the Green Bay church district, worked with a social media ministry for Millennials--the Haystack, and developed a love for researching in the areas of Adventist History and Sociology.

Since our time at Andrews University, I have had the privilege to serve as the senior pastor of Wisconsin's Southeastern Network of Seventh-day Adventist Churches (WISEN) in Racine and Kenosha counties. Our second child, Eleanor Ruth, was born during my time here, and Allison and I are expecting our third child this coming October. It's been a wonderful experience working with the churches in Southeast Wisconsin and I feel that it has grown me by leaps and bounds in many ways.

Looking back on my journey thus far, it's amazing to see what God has done in my life. At 30, I have spent almost half of my life responding to God's calling, and I can tell you that the times I embrace it are the times I really see the power of His Spirit working in my life. It is my hope to always follow His calling to the best of my ability, and I would encourage anyone to do the same.

Ordination, to me, is a confirmation that when the Lord said "whom shall I send, and who will go for us," my answer was like Isaiah's: "here I am, send me" (Isaiah 6:8). But that call and my response is nothing new. I've been at this for a while. It all started cutting weeds at a summer camp in 2005, and eventually (by God's grace) I find myself as the senior pastor of a district of churches. The point being: we don't answer the call to be recognized. We answer because the God of the universe wants to include us in His plans to seek and save the lost. He is calling you, as you read this right now. How do you respond?

More About Jesus

Eliza E. Hewitt

More about Jesus I would know,
More of His grace to others show;
More of His saving fullness see,
More of His love who died for me.

Refrain:

More, more about Jesus,
More, more about Jesus;
More of His saving fullness see,
More of His love who died for me.
