A hand holding a pocket watch is the central focus. The watch has a white face with black numbers and hands. Overlaid on the watch and hand are several concentric circles with square markers, resembling a digital or futuristic clock. The background is a light blue sky with clouds. In the bottom right corner, there is a network diagram with nodes and connecting lines.

CAMP MEETING GUIDE BOOK
JUNE 18 - 26, 2021

WELCOME TO WISCONSIN CAMP MEETING 2021

After missing camp meeting in 2020 because of the COVID-19 crisis, we are happy to welcome all of you back on this sacred ground.

We pray for God's protection and special intervention, having done our best to prepare for a safe and rewarding camp meeting.

All of us love to attend camp meeting for spiritual, emotional, and physical wellness. We meet our friends and family, we listen to inspiring speakers and musicians, and we participate in worship, special activities, and programs.

The theme for this year is, "It's Time." The apostle Paul urges all of us to consider the importance of time related to our salvation and preparation for the final events. "Besides this, you know the time, that the hour has come for you to wake from sleep. For salvation is nearer to us now than when we first believed." Romans 13:11

In line with the biblical message, Ellen White wrote, "A revival of true godliness among us is the greatest and most urgent of all our needs. To seek this should be our first work." (The Review and Herald, March 22, 1887)

Due to some limitations and changes related to the COVID-19 crisis, we encourage you to carefully read this guide book, check for updates through the Camp Lamp and listen for announcements during the meetings in the main pavilion.

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation. We hope you will enjoy this exciting time of meeting old friends, making new ones, and experiencing God's presence in an exceptional way.

ORDINATION

2nd Sabbath 3:00 pm

Jeanmark A'Kessler

From the rolling hills of the southern Ohio valley Jeanmark could feel God leading him even at a young age.

His parents were Pathfinder leaders in the Portsmouth, OH, church, and they gave him many opportunities to grow spiritually. Through their efforts at home, school, and church, Jeanmark was baptized at age 10.

Whether preaching his first sermon while standing on a chair behind the pulpit, or using his Legos as illustrations for his devotional talk at the nursing home in town, Jeanmark's local church family encouraged him to spread God's Word.

Jeanmark is supportive of and thankful for Adventist education, as his formative years were spent at Mount Vernon Academy, which at the time was the oldest Adventist academy in operation. He went on to study theology at Andrews University and also received his Master of Divinity at the seminary there.

During his seven years in university, God answered Jeanmark's prayers for a spiritually focused life partner when he met Abigail. The beauty of college is that it could bring a lady from the enchanted lands of New Mexico to cross paths with a gentleman from the foothills of Appalachia.

After a great season of prayer, God led Jeanmark and Abigail to the Wisconsin Conference where he first served as the associate pastor for the Waukesha church during his time at the Seminary. Currently Jeanmark serves as pastor for a four-church district in the Wisconsin northwoods. What a beautiful place to develop as a young pastor, within the dense green forest and beside the crystal blue lakes!

Jeanmark is passionate about evangelism, youth ministry, and using graphic design to communicate the visual language of the Bible to this digital-age generation.

Jeanmark and Abigail enjoy connecting with people over board games, and he has recently discovered the joys of birdwatching.

PIONEER PAVILION

Kevin Moreno

I first heard the words, "I think you should be a minister when you grow up," when I was around 10 or 11. They were spoken by my step-grandmother.

From a very young age I loved to be in church. Some of my most fond memories from my childhood revolve around church life and activities. Was that the reason my step-grandmother said those words?

At the time, I was definitely not in a place to make that kind of commitment - that early in life. During that time I was dealing with my parents' divorce and I had no thought of my future, let alone know how to serve others.

We moved away to a new city and started going to a smaller country church. It was there where I received a number of affirmations toward pastoral ministry. It was there where I had my first opportunities for ministry. I finally relented and accepted the call after I threw out a fleece to God.

From that point on, God has worked in me, through me, and around me to reach people for His kingdom. He opened the doors for me to go to Andrews University and study theology. He brought me to my wife who has been a pillar in my life and ministry. He opened the doors for me to start and continue my ministry here in Wisconsin.

I can relate to Moses who saw all his deficiencies in leadership; I have felt that too. But, just like Moses, God has shown me that He is the one who gives me the words to speak. He is the one who works through me to accomplish His purpose. He says, "I will give you wisdom to know how to lead my people. Will you journey with me?"

I look forward to seeing what God is going to accomplish through those working in his vineyard.

"Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men."

Please submit sublet notifications to campmeeting@wi.adventist.org. Jesus Is Coming Again

Lift up the trumpet, and loud let it ring:
Jesus is coming again!
Cheer up, ye pilgrims, be joyful and sing;
Jesus is coming again!

Coming again, coming again,
Jesus is coming again!

Echo it, hilltops; proclaim it, ye plains:
Jesus is coming again!
Coming in glory, the Lamb that was slain;
Jesus is coming again!

Coming again, coming again,
Jesus is coming again!
