

Healthy Food Ministry

“It took eight years to have my second child!” said Kim Rekawik, mother of six, and member of Madison East SDA Church. “I had a couple of miscarriages... and then I went to these health seminars given by our church and was taught to eat no sugar, oil or meat, and no dairy products, and I started eating that way. After a while, I got pregnant!” Rekawik said.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, more than seven million women in the U.S. have difficulty getting pregnant or carrying a baby full term. Further, the death rate of African American babies in Wisconsin is among the worst in the U.S, according to the CDC. Improper nutrition during pregnancy increases the risk of pre-term birth and low birth weight, which are common causes of infant death.

These poor birth outcomes motivated the formation of Families Eat Well, or F.E.W. Madison for short, at the Madison East Seventh-day Adventist Church. The group, believes the Adventist health message can be a powerful tool to help change birth outcomes for low income and racially and ethnically diverse women, leading to fewer deaths and health complications.

Rekawik’s story is not unique as many women report beneficial effects of a more natural diet on their conception, health during pregnancy, and baby’s health. Jennifer Stan [pseudo name], member of the F.E.W. team, recalls her experience.

“I had to monitor my glucose every day because I tested at-risk for gestational diabetes. I quickly noticed that every meal impacted my numbers. High sodium foods, like Chinese food and meat, spiked my glucose, and healthier foods like avocados produced normal levels,” Stan said.

For Stan, maintaining a healthy diet during her pregnancy was difficult and expensive. Before becoming pregnant, she consumed less than two servings of fruit and vegetables per day. “I knew that I had to eat healthier, and I wanted to do my best since this was my first child. I read so much information saying if I did not do this right, it would lead to preterm birth or low birth weight, and the risk was higher because I was Black,” Stan said. “I was constantly scared. If I did not have time or could not afford a healthier meal, I would skip meals. Not eating made things worse, but I didn’t know how to make healthier foods that I liked.” She believes the ministry will benefit women not accustomed to eating fruits and vegetables every day or that think they can’t afford vegetarian or vegan diets.

The F.E.W. team has pulled together a delicious set of healthy recipes that take forty-five minutes or less to cook with no more than ten ingredients, most with only one to five ingredients! Following Christ’s model to minister to peoples’ unique needs and hearts one-on-one, the team will work with moms to learn more about their needs, eating habits, likes and dislikes, and budgets. The goal is to customize recipes and suggestions for each individual’s lifestyle and budget.

The F.E.W. ministry team has partnered with Access Midwifery Clinic and the Madison Women’s Care Center, organizations serving low-income women and those racially and ethnically diverse. During the COVID-19 pandemic, they will donate boxes of recipes and non-

Corporate Worship Invitation

According to Pew Research Center (PRC) 2018, consistent church attendance is declining in the United States and evidently in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. In my understanding, regular presence is attending Sabbath services 3-4 times per month.

The top ten reasons people consider when attending church are: “To become closer to God (81%); so, their children will have a moral foundation (69%); to become a better person (68%); for comfort in times of trouble or sorrow (66%); they find the sermons valuable (59%); to be part of a faith community (57%); to continue their family’s religious traditions (37%); they feel obligated to go (31%); to meet new people or socialize (19%); and, to please their family, spouse or partner (16%)” (www.pewforum.org).

Concurrently, according to PRC, the top reasons for missing regular worship services are: “they practice their faith in “other ways” (37%); they are not believers (28%); no reason is “very important” (26%); they haven’t found a house of worship they like (23%); they don’t like the sermons (18%); they don’t feel welcome (14%); they don’t have the time (12%); poor health or mobility (9%); no house of worship in their area (7%)” (www.pewforum.org).

Nevertheless, according to the Bible, the number one reason we attend church is not for spiritual entertainment but to corporately worship God. He is the One who invites us in His presence. “It is not men whom we are to exalt and worship; it is God, the only true and living God, to whom our worship and reverence are due” (Evangelism, 133).

From the beginning, God created the Sabbath day for unique spiritual fellowship with Him and one another. He wants to share His holiness with us, transforming our lives according to His character. In Psalm 100, David clearly states: “Worship the Lord with gladness; come before him with joyful songs” (Ps 100:2). See the imperative language used? It’s not optional. It doesn’t depend on whether we feel comfortable or not, or whether we have any other obligations.

There is always a place for individual acts of devotion in the context of our relationship with God. Still, nothing can replace the privilege and the sacred duty of corporate worship. David expressed his joy of being part of the worship service: “I was glad when they said to me, ‘Let us go to the house of the Lord’” (Ps 122:1).

Foreseeing spiritual and moral apathy at the end times, the apostle Paul is even more direct: “And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near” (Heb 10:24–25).

Collective worship encourages new converts and those who experience difficult times. As parts of the Body of Christ, we are called to edify each other and grow our faith by observation and role modeling. Worship is contagious and inspires even non-believers to dedicate their lives to God. Consequently, true believers always want to spend the sacred time of the Sabbath at the special place where God invites us to worship. Ultimately, collective worship on Sabbath anticipates the great gathering in heaven, where we will praise and worship God for eternity.

I love to worship on Sabbath with our Wisconsin church family. I am always looking forward to joining in praises, prayers, and responding to God’s invitation to spiritual revival. I also invite you, and your family, to join us every Sabbath and meet Jesus, uniquely according to His promise: “For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them” (Matt. 18:20).

New Principal for Milwaukee School

We are happy to introduce Dr. Tim Erich as the new Administrative Principal for our Milwaukee Adventist School, along with his wife, Kristen, who is a Speech pathologist. Tim and Kristen have two grown sons: T. Scott, and Christopher.

Tim was born to missionary parents and grew up in South Korea and Singapore. Living amongst people of all different cultures, races, and religions early in life has helped him appreciate the universal love of God for all, and the contributing value of differing backgrounds and perspectives as God leads us to collectively fulfill the mission He lays out before us.

Tim always enjoyed school, and couldn't help feeling that it would be a great privilege to be able to continue to learn and grow every day as an educator. He received his BA in Political Science with a minor in French and Religion from Loma Linda University. He then attended La Sierra University and completed his MA in Education in Curriculum and Instruction, his Ed.S. degree in Educational Administration & Leadership, and then completed his doctoral degree in Education.

"It is so exciting to see just how God is going to help us meet the challenges He allows in our lives," said Tim. "and also to experience how He works in us and through us to make a positive difference in our community and world."

In his free time, Tim enjoys traveling, disk golf, singing, Biblical archeology, kayaking, historical gaming, photography, and soccer.

Vanessa Sloan New Green Bay Teacher

My name is Vanessa Sloan and I'm so excited to be able to teach grades 3-6 at Green Bay Adventist Junior Academy this year.

This will be my 5th year teaching. I've always known that I wanted to be a teacher so I guess you could say that I'm living my dream every single day! I trust that God has big plans for us this year.

I attended Wisconsin Academy all four years. Then, I attended Union College and graduated in December of 2017 with a bachelor's degree in Elementary Education. I am currently pursuing my Masters in Educational Leadership and Administration at the University of Southern Indiana.

When I'm not teaching, I like to read and discover new food places with my husband, Zach. We are also looking forward to exploring our new city.

Aletia Thornton New Milwaukee Teacher

Hello! My name is Aletia Thornton. I am happy to be joining the Milwaukee Adventist School South Campus to teach 1st and 2nd grade. I'm from Shawnee, Oklahoma, and enjoy reading, swimming, horseback riding, traveling, and collecting shells and pins.

My four older siblings and I were raised participating in Pathfinders, sunshine bands, and nursing home visits. We always looked forward to fellowship meals with our church family. Early on I knew that I wanted to serve God and help others in that order, so I pursued my degree in Elementary Education at Southwestern Adventist University.

I felt strongly God's leading to accept this call and look forward to working at the Milwaukee South Campus with you and your children; and I'm excited to see what God has in store for us.

New Milwaukee Central Hispanic Pastor

Pastor Samuel Latouche is now serving in the Milwaukee Central Hispanic District. Pastor Latouche and his wife, Nayis, have three children, Samuel, Esteban, and Vanesa. Pastor Latouche received his Masters Degree in Pastoral Ministry from Inter-American Adventist Theological Seminary. For 15 years Pastor Latouche has served in Venezuela as a Pastor, Evangelist, Departmental Director, Executive Secretary, and Field President. From 2018 to the present, Pastor Latouche has served in the Minnesota conference as a Bible Worker.

Pastor Latouche loves the Lord and has a passion for winning souls to be a part of God's kingdom.

To minister to the emerging food needs in the local Madison community, especially during the pandemic, the church's Pastor, Loren Nelson III, has started a free community garden. Plots are open to any individual who would like to grow their own food. Pastor Nelson believes the garden will help sustain a supply of organic produce to the ministry and provide access to those struggling to afford organic produce at the stores. Other church members and local farms have also volunteered to contribute produce to the ministry. This past growing season, through donations and the garden's supply, the ministry was able to donate boxes of produce to women in need.

"We are very blessed to have a great team serving in this ministry, and we welcome anyone who wants to be involved as there are many opportunities - from growing food to developing recipes or working with local parents and families. We also welcome dads and other men," said F.E.W. Co-founder and first-time dad, George Levy. He felt called to help pregnant women who struggle with food as this was a significant challenge with his first child. "We can all play a part; it only takes a few to help families eat well" he said.

With Christ and the Holy Spirit's guidance, the Madison East group hopes to help at least a few women incorporate more healthy ingredients into their diets. Helping moms eat more healthy diets leads to generations of more healthy eaters.

Alan Petersen New Milwaukee Teacher

Alan Petersen is pleased to be joining the Milwaukee Adventist School North Campus this fall to teach grades 7-10, as well as Math, History and Bible. He and his wife, Hannah, have two cats named Pumpkin and Cinnamon. They are also happy to announce that they are expecting their first child which should arrive in early December. Welcome and congratulations!

Alan grew up attending the Adventist church, but says his real conversion happened his second year of college. He was discouraged with his faith when some friends asked if he would give them a ride to an Adventist church in town that met in a strip mall. "I was a little apprehensive about going," admits Alan, "but I felt so welcomed and loved. It changed my perspective on the church, and I no longer was attending out of a tradition or obligation. I knew that the Adventist church was a place I was loved and that I belonged. Through this experience I developed a deeper relationship with Jesus and a strong desire to serve Him."

During a summer while in college, Alan worked at a youth camp, and realized he loved working with teens. He loved that the teens had so much energy, and saw that this was a key time in their lives for defining who they were. This is what drew him to want to be an educator and help youth find and grow their relationship with Jesus. "I am excited for the opportunities that this new school year will bring," said Alan. "And, I am looking forward to the chance to share my love for Jesus to the students at Milwaukee SDA School."

In his free time, Alan enjoys traveling, exploring nature, and spending time in water.

Cory Herthel New Green Bay Pastor

We welcome Pastor Cory Herthel, his wife, Christal, and their sons, Diego and Hayden, to the Green Bay District. The family enjoys snorkeling, swimming with stingrays, and speed boating.

Through a series of devastating childhood events, Pastor Herthel came to know Jesus as his best friend and constant support at the age of 13. He decided to be baptised at the age of 15, even though no one else in his family was baptized. He met his wife, Christal, when they were both high school seniors. They loved studying the Bible together, and within a year, Christal decided to be baptized as well. Two years later they were married. Then in 2008 he had the privilege of baptizing his dad. Then he was able to baptize his mom and sister in 2016.

One month after Pastor Herthel's baptism, he was invited to share his first sermon. From that point forward, preaching and evangelizing became a natural part of his experience. By the time he had his driver's license, he was receiving invitations to preach all over his home conference in Indiana. He felt it was clear that God was leading him to serve God as a pastor.

"My passion is to express the Adventist message and the gospel synonymously as I believe they are one and the same," said Pastor Herthel. I long to live for Jesus and do all that I can to help others realize the value they have in His eyes. To choose to be lost is a travesty that is totally avoidable. I know that Jesus' ministry was perfect...so, while I realize I am far from where I'd like to be, I strive to follow the examples of ministry that I see in the gospels in order to foster the way for those I share with to fall totally in love with Him."

Rick Blumenschein Milwaukee Teacher

Rick Blumenschein has accepted the position of 1st and 2nd grade teacher for Milwaukee Adventist School North Campus. “I have found teaching to be one of the most difficult but rewarding careers I have done. I hope to help young children to develop a personal walk with Jesus and introduce them to God through His creation.”

After spending many years in the taxidermy business, Rick graduated with Elementary Education, with an emphasis on the multiple-grade classroom. He loves all outdoor activities like hunting, fishing, camping, and dirt bikes. He is also a great fan of the Green Bay Packers. In July of this year, Rick married Pamela Chambers in the Madison East Church. Pam has accepted the position of Girl’s Dean and School Nurse at Wisconsin Academy, where Rick and Pam will be living.

“My goal is to hear God’s voice in life and help others to do the same. I want to help students find a personal connection to God.”

Amy Moreno New Green Bay Teacher

We are delighted to welcome Amy Moreno as teacher for the 7-9th grade students at Green Bay Adventist Junior Academy. Amy and her husband, Kevin, who is associate pastor of the Green Bay Church District, have four wonderful children, Liezel, Viviana, Tobiaz, and Rowena.

Amy grew up in Wisconsin and has always loved church. But when she took part in some short term mission trips with Ultimate Workout and as a student missionary, she said, “I became more excited about ministry and finding ways to serve. Through this I grew to love Jesus more and more.” Amy studied Theology and graduated with her Masters of Divinity from the seminary at Andrews University. She loves learning and ministry, and is excited to serve as a teacher because it allows her to do both!

“I am passionate about finding ways to see how Jesus can be a part of every aspect of our lives,” said Amy. “Every subject we learn can become a foundation of true education.”

FINANCIAL UPDATE

Many have expressed their thankfulness for camp meeting this year. It was a special time coming together with family and friends. Meetings and seminars were well attended and appreciated. A special thank-you to the workers and volunteers who together made this possible.

Tithe through June of this year shows a gain of 10% year to date. Wisconsin Budget offerings show a decrease of just over 21% year to date, however a large gift was given last year that skews the comparison. Adjusting for that difference would change the 21% loss to an 8% gain for this year. Thank you for your faithfulness in support of the work of the church.

Summer camps are in full swing and school is just around the corner. We are looking forward to bringing our pastoral and teaching staff together the 1st week of August. This will be a special time for fellowshiping together as well as to focus on our mission as teachers head into the new school year and pastors look to strengthen our church’s outreach post-Covid.

Our camp meeting theme It’s Time reminded us to be about spreading the gospel. Desire of Ages page 289 reminds us we are not alone in this task: “All who consecrate soul, body, and spirit to God will be constantly receiving a new endowment of physical and mental power. The inexhaustible supplies of heaven are at their command. Christ gives them the breath of His own spirit, life of His own life. The Holy Spirit puts forth its highest energies to work heart and mind. The grace of God enlarges and multiplies their faculties, and every perfection of the divine nature comes to their assistance in the work of saving souls.”

May we each experience this as we labor for the Master.

God is Faithful

HE HAS KEPT HIS PROMISE TO BE WITH US THIS YEAR

Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand." – Isaiah 41:10

This beautiful promise from Isaiah is a great reminder of God's faithfulness and watch care, and we at Wisconsin Academy have definitely been recipients of this grace. In this current pandemic climate, things have been so up and down. This past school year, some schools did online instruction only while others went back and forth between face-to-face and distance learning. The majority of our students and parents wanted face-to-face instruction, so we donned our masks, bought extra cleaning supplies, put protocols into place, and opened our doors. What a blessing that was!

It was wonderful to see our students interacting and enjoying their time together. Even though they could sit only three at a table in the cafeteria, they were troupers and made it work. During the school year, there were only three times where we had to do distance learning for a week at a time. The students groaned when we announced the shift into online learning but doing this kept our campus from having to do any major shutdowns. We are grateful to the students and parents for their flexibility and support, and we are beyond appreciative to God for the protection He's given us here.

Our calendar was tentative this year because we weren't sure we'd be able to do some of our regular activities in this COVID-19 world. We didn't have Alumni Weekend or Music Fest, but once things started to relax a bit, we were able to host an Academy Day and do our annual Spring Concert. Most importantly, we were able to do a normal graduation. The seniors and their parents were so grateful, as were we. There's nothing like seeing the seniors march into a new phase of their lives.

As we review God's faithfulness and watch care over the past year, we can praise Him for His goodness. Every promise in His Word is true. He will be with us always.

Pamela Blumenschein New Women's Dean

We are happy to announce that Pamela Blumenschein has accepted the position of Women's Dean and School Nurse at Wisconsin Academy in Columbus, WI. Pamela grew up on a ranch just west of the Missouri River in South Dakota, and she graduated from Dakota Adventist Academy located north of Bismarck, ND. She attended Union College and later graduated from Emory University in Atlanta, GA with a BSN (nursing).

Following her graduation Pamela worked for UAB in Birmingham, AL as a Trauma/ Burn ICU nurse and later at Florida Hospital in the Critical Care ICU. During her 15 years in Madison, WI, Pamela has worked as an Organ Procurement Coordinator for transplant at the University Hospital.

Prayer, especially intercessory prayer, is essential to Pamela's relationship with Christ, and she's part of a prayer core group for Every Daughter, a faith-based organization committed to anti-sex trafficking. Her passions include her four nieces and nephews, music, traveling (especially mission trips), small groups, reading, her papillion dog, Tucker, upcycling, and anything having to do with being outdoors.

Senior Class Trip to Camp Blue Ridge, VA

The class of 2021 took its senior class trip to Camp Blue Ridge in Montebello, Virginia. While at Camp Blue Ridge, the seniors spent time working on a variety of service projects to help get the facility ready to open for summer camps. The seniors worked, slept, ate, and enjoyed activities on the campgrounds, assisted by camp manager Gobey Martin and his staff. When not working, they spend time horseback riding, driving go-carts, and hiking to a local waterfall. One day they were able to take a trip to visit the University of Virginia, founded and designed by Thomas Jefferson. We want to thank all the people who have allowed God to use them in making this trip possible. What you have done has already made a difference in many lives.

Fun Times at the SA Spring Picnic

On a bright and sunny Wednesday in May, the students and staff enjoyed our annual SA Spring Picnic. Each class participated in a sprawling obstacle course that included a rope walk over the Crawfish River, tire flipping, disc golf, crawling through hoops, a balance beam walk, a crawl through a rope web, a series of hurdles, and more. After the obstacle course, classes played softball with each other and enjoyed Mr. Cantrell's carbonated fruit. Other activities included a doughnut eating contest, capture the flag, sack races, an egg toss, a soccer game, and more. A picnic supper of hot dogs, burgers, potato salad, watermelon, chips, and strawberry shortcake followed. Thank you, SA officers and sponsors for organizing such a fun picnic to close out the year.
