

Celebrating Recovery

Recovering from personal injury is challenging no matter the cause. However, when it comes from within the church, the challenge is often greater. We are all human and struggle with many issues and sometimes we are either hurt by or cause hurt to those around us. It is how we respond to those hurts that determine whether we will be bitter or better. I would like to share with you a story of recovery.

A number of years ago, a couple received a brochure in the mail inviting them to a Bible seminar. After attending almost all of the lectures and believing what they heard, they decided they wanted to get baptized. During their visit with the pastor shortly before their baptism, the woman was shocked by the way the pastor explained the symbolism of the wedding ring. Her reaction resulted in the couple being refused baptism. The visiting evangelist quickly arranged for the couple to attend and be baptized at another congregation near by. Although this was quite challenging, the couple decided to continue attending their new church.

After settling into their new congregation, the woman began serving in offices in the church. After many years of faithful service in various capacities, she came to attend a regular board meeting and, to her total surprise, found out that one item on the board agenda was a concern someone had with her. The elder with the “concern” proceeded to yell at her in front of the other board members and pastor, accusing her of attempting to undermine his authority. Then another person on the board pointed directly at her and added, “People like you should be put out of the church.” The shock of the accusations (which later were shown to be a misunderstanding) resulted in her deciding to not return to that church. The hurt was so deep that it took many years for her to feel comfortable even being in the same room with those who made these accusations.

The question comes to mind, why do people in the church hurt other people in the church? If the Fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, temperance, why do we experience hurt? Church members are people. People are human, and humans have issues. Everyone has a past, all are broken or wounded in some way large or small. Whether it is addiction, fear, worry, anger, desire to control, co-dependence, workaholism, pride or...fill in your own struggle... we all deal with our own issues. All are on a journey of being transformed into the image of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. Along the way, people make mistakes. People get hurt and then often hurt other people.

Another question comes to mind, how do we welcome the fruit of the Spirit back into our churches? I’m happy to tell you the rest of this story.

God had been good to this couple over the years. He had given them understanding and compassion regarding their previous experiences. And now, they were about to discover something more.

In the summer of 2019, Pastor Kevin Kuehmichel, of the Chippewa Valley Seventh-day Adventist Church (CVSDA) in Altoona, WI, offered to show his church a different method of public outreach. This method, called “Celebrate Recovery”, was a 12 Step Bible based, Christ centered program of recovery from life’s hurts, habits and hang-ups.

Through this program, the church would learn how to lead out in weekly lessons and the small group discussions on each week’s topic. The program would be open to anyone in the community or local church who needed recovery from addictions, trauma, abuse or other habits and hang-ups.

The woman and her husband decided to attend the Celebrate Recovery program offered at CVSDA and see what it was all about. They discovered the meetings began with music and prayer, then a reading was given of either the 12 Steps or the 8 Principles which are based on the Beatitudes found in Matthew 5. Next the lesson was presented, followed by a closing prayer, a little social time and then the ladies and men separated into their small groups to discuss the day’s lesson.

Wisconsin Conference President

39th Constituency Elects Officers and Directors

Elected Officers and Directors: Brian Stephan, Executive Secretary/Treasurer; Titus Naftanaila, President; Bill Ochs, Planned Giving/Trust Services; Adam Case, Ministerial Director; Zack Payne, Youth Director; Sue Nelson, Superintendent for Education

On the morning of October 16, 2022, over 270 delegates and delegates at large from across the state of Wisconsin came together to attend the 39th Constituency Session of the Wisconsin Conference.

President Titus Naftanaila gave a short devotional thought from Isaiah 6, calling the delegates to contemplate the holiness of God more fully. He welcomed all delegates and guests and said “Today is our turn to respond to God’s call to do business.”

Following the official opening of the session, Naftanaila gave the President’s Report beginning with an overview of the past 4 years and how the Wisconsin Conference has followed it’s mission and service initiatives. In his report, Naftanaila also shared what God has been doing in each of the departments of the Wisconsin Conference.

He shared his thankfulness for the leadership of those who have come before us including Mike Edge, former Wisconsin Conference president; Juanita Edge, former Communication Director; Linda Rosen, former Superintendent for Education; Cindy Stephan, former Planned Giving and Trust Services Director; and Eric Chavez, former Youth Director.

Naftanaila also gave recognition to all department directors, ministry coordinators, members of the Executive Committee and other committees across the conference and said “We do not work alone, we work together.” He gave special recognition to Brian Stephan, conference executive secretary/treasurer by saying, “If wisdom is at the conference, it is here,” referring to Stephan.

Ken Denslow, Lake Union president called Becky Ziesmer, committee secretary, to share the recommendations from the Nominating Committee. All six names recommended by the committee were elected by the delegates to serve for the 2022-2026 quadrennium. The names of those elected were, Titus Naftanaila, president; Brian Stephan, executive secretary/treasurer; Adam Case, ministerial director; Sue Nelson, superintendent for education; Zack Payne, youth director; Bill Ochs, planned giving and trust services director.

Upon being elected Wisconsin Conference President, Titus Naftanaila said, “I am humbled. My wife and I are honored to respond to God’s call and this responsibility. We pray and hope that God won’t be disappointed and the great Conference of Wisconsin will be satisfied. It is not about me; it is about a team. We are here, together, by God’s grace. We are called for such a time. If everyone responds to God’s call, ‘Here I am; send me,’ we will have wonderful things happening in Wisconsin.”

Brian Stephan next gave reports regarding the Constitution and Bylaws Committee, conference membership as well as the financial reports. Upon sharing how God has blessed the conference he said, “God still has a work for this church to do. God is preparing us for whatever the future will bring.”

Stephan then talked about what he called “another miracle from the Lord” when earlier this year, a large maturity came in that benefited the conference, Wisconsin Academy and Camp Wakonda. He concluded by saying that “no matter what comes, God will continue to bless us in Wisconsin.”

The Auditor’s Report was given by Joseph Njau, auditor from the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. He was pleased to give a “clean, unmodified opinion” of the financial statements and congratulated the team on a job well done.

Brian Stephan finished his reports by saying that the auditor gave Wisconsin Academy a “clean opinion” of their financial statement.

Next, Ken Smith, interim principal for Wisconsin Academy, gave his report. He shared that God has blessed them with great students and attributes much of their success to great faculty that work well together and support one another. He shared his dreams of improving the physical plant and enhancing curriculum, with special focus on the Computer, Art, Tech Ed. and Music departments. Smith also shared a list of development projects that is available on their website, wisacad.org, and asked for support in helping to accomplish these projects.

The final report was given by President Naftanaila who shared the strategic plan for the Wisconsin Conference over the next 4 years which you will find on page 2. In conclusion, Naftanaila presented a plan for making needed renovations at Camp Wakonda. “Great work has been done in the

In attending this program, the couple found how to better share the healing and recovery they had already experienced through God’s goodness. Today, they are excited for what God is doing in the church and community through Celebrate Recovery.

You may wonder why people would attend a 12 Step recovery program. One attendee said it has really helped him communicate better with his wife. Another said that as she has gotten more honest with her own failings, she can look at the hurtful behaviors of other people and just think to herself, “Well, they sure don’t have very good people skills.” Another attendee commented about Step 6 of the 12 Steps, which reads: “We were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character” and then referenced the Spirit of Prophecy quote from Sons and Daughters of God, pg. 361 which reads, “The character which we now manifest is deciding our future destiny. The happiness of heaven will be found by conforming to the will of God, and if men become members of the royal family in heaven, it will be because heaven has begun with them on earth.” This attendee then went on to comment, “This class is really helping me a lot, to become more patient and kind. God is really using this class to change me from the inside. I want to be ready for Heaven!”

So, how do we welcome the Fruit of the Spirit back into our churches? We all need to start by looking into our own hearts first!

The Celebrate Recovery program at CVSDA will be entering its third year this fall (with the required break due to public health). Both members of the community and local church have been in attendance. Meetings are held on Tuesdays nights from 6:30-8:00 pm. All sinners are warmly welcome to join in learning more about how to practically manifest the Fruit of the Spirit in their lives, and get their character ready for both the soon coming final conflict as well as our future lives in heaven. No reservations necessary, come as you are, you will be among friends!

past by those who came before us,” stated Naftanaila. “We have to continue the work.”

- Highlights of the plan were shared by Brian Stephan:
- The large maturity gave $322,000 to Camp Wakonda
 - Conference is challenging members to match these funds
 - Each dollar can double the impact
 - If Wisconsin members can match this amount, the camp could have a total of nearly $650,000
 - Maranatha is coming to Camp Wakonda next spring

There was a strong spirit of unity amongst the constituency session members in support of Wakonda.

Titus Naftanaila adjourned the session with a word of thankfulness to everyone and their dedication to God’s work.

FINANCIAL UPDATE

As I shared at our recent constituency session, I praise God for how He has blessed our conference even through COVID. We saw a tithe decrease in 2019, but through multiple blessings, we are now in a better financial position than before COVID began.

These blessings include your faithfulness, as we have seen an increase in tithe over the last two years. We also qualified for the government PPP loans which allowed us to cover payroll, and we have been able to pay off the revolving fund debt to the Lake Union.

I am also happy to report that the General Conference auditors gave the conference and Wisconsin Academy a “clean opinion” on our financial statements.

Another blessing from God is that a large maturity came in that benefited the conference, Wisconsin Academy and Camp Wakonda. From this maturity $322,000 was given to Camp Wakonda!

We are excited to challenge you as members to make a dollar for dollar match to double these funds. This will enable us to make some needed improvements at Camp Wakonda.

The main focus of this project will be to replace the existing children’s division tents, used during camp meeting, with permanent structures. Would you prayerfully consider joining us in this challenge to continue the ministry of Camp Wakonda?

God still has a work for this church to do. He is preparing us for whatever the future will bring. No matter what comes, God will continue to bless us in Wisconsin.

Week of Prayer with Pastor Dee Casper

Students were blessed with the messages of Pastor Dee Casper during week of prayer. He shared with us his testimony and how he came to know and work for the Lord. He made God more personable and really took time to answer questions from students. He did a Q & A session Sabbath afternoon and was often found around campus chatting with students.

He had worship, both in the men's dorm and women's dorm, to tackle the subject of relationships. He backed up his answers with scripture and shared his notes with students for further study if they wished.

Vespers

After Friday evening vespers, students are able to participate in afterglow. They sing songs and have prayer. It sets a reverent tone that carries through Sabbath. Students really enjoy it when the weather is nice and we are able to hold it outdoors as pictured above.

“Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness; Come before his presence with singing.”
Psalm 100: 1-2

Davina Fingerson New Music Director

She was a full time choir director in public schools before going to MSDA in Milwaukee where she was a teacher of Language Arts as well as music. She was set to start school at MSDA this fall but felt God leading her here to WA. Her passion is music and working with young people. She is excited that music fest will be happening again and hopes to bring energy and joy to the program.

Daniel Lee New Cafeteria Team Member

We welcome Daniel Lee as a new cafeteria team member. Daniel is a WA graduate of the 2022 class. He spent the summer working at Camp Au Sable in their kitchen. He is happy to be back at WA and enjoying working in a Christian environment with other young people. Daniel enjoys music and playing guitar. His future goals are to travel and experience different cultures and to be a teacher one day.

Hannah Fingerson New Cafeteria Team Member

We welcome Hannah Fingerson as a new cafeteria team member. Hannah is a WA graduate of the 2021 class. She moved from the Milwaukee area to work full time in the cafeteria. Hannah enjoys music, video games, sleep and traveling; Africa and Japan being 2 places she would love to travel to. She would like to go to school one day for music and solo performance.

Fall Picnic

The water slide made it's annual appearance. It was so good that it was decided to have it twice this year!

Fall picnic was a great day with friendly competition between classes. Seniors did take the title of Class Champions.
