

James Hamilton Story

Before coming to Christ, really before coming to Wisconsin Academy, my goal every day was to live to reach age 21, and to not get caught. I had a drinking problem, a drug problem, and some family problems. I had, and still have, parents that love me and I consider that a blessing, but a divorce between them is hard to handle from the perspective of a kid who saw it all coming, and could do nothing to stop it.

It wasn't a quick change, it was a drawn out and painful ordeal that left me far from stable and even farther from Christ. How can God, who uses marriage to symbolize Christ's bond with the remnant church, allow for my parents' marriage to go so awry? I had grown up around drinking, and as soon as I started I understood why it was so popular among my family and friends. It was a release, a getaway, and a temporary patch for the void left in my heart by pushing away Christ.

I also used a veritable buffet of drugs, made available by my desperate search for friends. I was homeschooled until 6th Grade, then entered public school where I was socially behind and emotionally lost. I found friends there that acted outside the limits of the law, usually ones above my own age, and followed them into the swirling hazes of smokes and highs that ruled my life for several years. My parents being bogged down with their own problems, I managed to evade authority, pulling off mediocre grades throughout middle school.

James Hamilton, a Junior at Wisconsin Academy, was baptized March 12, 2018, and is currently a member of the Wisconsin Academy Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Then, a change came. I was presented with the chance to leave my spinning world, and go to a new world I had barely heard of. It was new and different, but I had a strange and powerful feeling that it was a world I needed to join. For once, I actually listened. The decision was last minute, made in the car on the way from one parent's house to the other, and I was enrolled at Wisconsin Academy.

I started classes, liked the teachers, and found interest in the spiritual influences present every day. I was clean at Wisconsin Academy, and because of that I knew how the withdrawals should have looked. However, they only lightly touched me, and I now see that as one of the many ways God was helping me towards Him.

Sadly, I went home and went partially back to my old life. Since I was 10, I had struggled with depression and anxiety, and eventually thoughts and actions towards suicide. Before coming to Wisconsin Academy, I tried five times and somehow failed.

Since my enrollment, I have only tried once more, again failing. My sophomore year, I was back to being clean, but depression tore at me harder than ever. God kept pushing at my heart though, even through all the darkness I harbored, and He finally

From the President's Desk

It's Personal

Over the past few weeks Juanita and I have gotten to know Brian, Kathleen Traci, and Mary. They may not be members of the Seventh-day Adventist church, but they ministered to us in profound ways.

What do they have in common? They all wear scrubs. They were men and women who did far more than hand out pills and give shots. They were people who took time to listen; took time to share a little bit of their own personal struggles, to bring encouragement and healing.

As I watched these caring people I thought of our church. Our congregations spread out across Wisconsin are designed to be hospitals for the hurting. Places where people who are in need can come to be introduced to the Great Healer and receive healing.

As at a hospital our churches have protocols; sermons, programs, etc. that we do for people. But it is the personal touch that makes the most impact. It is our intentional taking of time to attentively listen to the interesting, as well as the uninteresting. It is our giving of self, even when it is inconvenient, that makes lasting impacts.

I believe we often underestimate the power that a kind word has on a hurting heart. Our thoughtfulness even briefly extended, can be a real bright spot in the life of a person whose life seems filled with shadows. And all too often a smiling face masks a hurting heart, in need of encouragement.

While you may not wear scrubs, you too can bring healing to a hurting heart, by your thoughtfulness. An encouraging card, an email, phone call, text, or conversation, can make someone's day better because you took time to care. Ask God to help you bring joy to someone today.

Wisconsin Adventist Schools are Soon to Begin

We are looking forward to an exciting 2018-2019 school year. Our students are blessed to be in a school system with deeply caring and talented teachers who are committed to inspiring, engaging, educating and empowering every student.

We have been hard at work over the summer making plans for special events and professional development for teachers.

Two years ago we embarked on an ambitious three year literacy initiative. 2018-2019 will be our 3rd year. Literacy experts among our teaching staff developed researched materials and resources to use in the evaluation of students' literacy skills in our Seventh-day Adventist schools. Students are tested in the fall and spring of each year.

Results are analyzed to inform professional development plans for teachers. Teachers have self selected professional learning communities to focus on the literacy needs of their students. We look for trends as we study the data. One observation was the improvement in spelling, which we attribute partially to the emphasis on the annual conference spelling bee. We look forward to the full implementation of the new Bible Encounter curriculum in the elementary schools. This exceptionally engaging curriculum, with outstanding teaching strategies is helping students and teachers encounter Jesus as they participate in Bible study. This curriculum is loved by students and teachers.

Here are some important dates to remember:

August 1: Teachers report to work

August 6-9: North American Division Teachers' Convention, held at the McCormick Place in Chicago

August 20: K-10 schools first day of school

August 12 & 19: Wisconsin Academy registration

August 23: Wisconsin Academy first day of school

September 4-6: Outdoor Education for students in grades 5-6

Home School Parents: You are welcome to participate in the literacy assessment and Outdoor Education for your 5th or 6th grade child. Contact your local school or Linda Rosen at Irosen@wi.adventist.org for more information.

Looking forward to the coming school year we solicit your prayers to bless God's work in our schools. Faith based learning that takes place in our schools gives students the opportunity to experience Jesus as their Creator and Redeemer.

Constituency Session

On October 7, delegates from across our conference will convene at Wisconsin Academy for our 38th conference constituency session. Every four years delegates gather to reflect on the past four years, as well as look forward to the next four years. Conference administrators, departmental directors, the executive committee, the constitution and by-laws committee, and the nominating committee are elected by the delegates to lead the conference for the next four years. Delegates will also vote on capital projects, goals, and strategies for the coming years. Time will be given for delegates to speak on the issues presented at the session. The input of the delegates is important, not only for the process of the day, but to help shape the direction of the conference for the next four years.

All delegates are encouraged to attend. Non-delegates may attend as observers, but will not be able to take an active part in the meeting. Please pray that God will guide and bless throughout this important meeting.

Teresa Schaezka New Office Employee

Teresa Schaezka, a native of Wisconsin, has returned to work at the Wisconsin Conference office. Teresa is working at the Conference office as the Administrative Assistant for Elder Mike Edge, Elder Adam Case and Brian Stephan.

Teresa comes from Indiana Academy where she has been working for the last six years as Registrar. Teresa is an office aficionado who is driven by a strong work ethic and great organizational skills.

Teresa has enjoyed working with young people for the last several years and her burden for young people extends into young adult ministry. As a young adult herself she's recognized how young adults sometimes have a hard time finding their place in the church.

Working with "Cruise with a Mission" ministry under Center for Youth Evangelism has empowered her and she wants to share the experience with others. She recognizes that it encourages young adults to be themselves and minister to those in and outside of the church.

Teresa looks forward to ministering in the Wisconsin Conference and meeting new people and being reunited with old friends.

Teach me Your way, O Lord; I will walk in Your truth.

FINANCIAL UPDATE

As we find ourselves mid-summer we have just closed the books for the first half of our fiscal year. At mid-year the conference is experiencing a 5.12% tithe gain along with a 4.18% increase in giving to Wisconsin Budget. We give thanks to the Lord for this.

I also would like to bring you up to date on the special appeal for a full time special evangelist we have made both at camp meeting and in this article. Our goal was $60,000. I am happy to report that we raised $20,000 of that at our camp meeting evangelism offering appeals. In addition, churches have turned in through remittances another $15,000 for Wisconsin Evangelism bringing us to a total of $35,000 toward our $60,000 goal.

We would very much like to fill this position by fall so our evangelist will be ready to go by the first of the year. With all working together I believe these funds can be in hand in time to fill this position by then.

Prayerfully consider giving to this need. As the Lord impresses you to give we ask that you use the line item on your tithe envelope marked Wisconsin Evangelism or write in "Conference Evangelist." You may turn your envelope in with your regular offerings or send it directly to the conference. Thank you in advance for making this a possibility. It has been over seven years since we have had a full time evangelist in this conference and we would like to see this position restored at least for the next two or three years. We already have several good candidates as possibilities.

It won't be long before school will be starting up again. Preparations are already under way at Wisconsin Academy for the new school year. This summer a generous donation was given to the conference for the purpose of paving the parking areas at the boys and girls dorm of the academy as well as the parking lot and driveway at the lighthouse. This will bring a much improved appearance to the public as they enter our property for the lighthouse and the school. It also makes for a safer environment as well.

Again, thanks to all who support this conference with the many talents God has given. Working together, and with God's blessing, my prayer is that our efforts will bring many to a knowledge of our Lord and Savior so many may be ready to meet Him when He returns to take us home.

broke through during a sermon series on End Time Prophecy, found in Daniel. I indicated the desire to be baptized, and commenced studies with the pastor. I started to accept Christ more fully, and with his strength, I have set aside drinking, drugs, dark music, and the people that draw me towards those things.

I was baptized in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit on March 12th, and now I praise and thank God for how He has changed my life. There is no such thing as a perfect human, not since the Garden of Eden, but I pray every day I can be as close as possible to Christ's image, and believe that I and anyone can reach that goal based on Philippians 4:13. "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." (NKJV)

I surrender my life and my actions to Christ, and remember where I was just two years ago, before coming to Wisconsin Academy, and I praise Him for leading me to where I am now. He truly has washed me white as snow, and as I go forwards in my life, I look to Him to guide me in all that I do, and pray that His purpose through me is fulfilled according to His will for my life.

Four Commit To Jesus Through Baptism

from the principal's desk:

God's School

Wisconsin Academy: a place where lifelong friendships are made, memories are created, academic excellence is pursued, and daily opportunities are provided for students to grow and find a relationship with Jesus.

Signs all around tell us Jesus is coming soon, and it is so important for our young people to be in an environment that nurtures a true, transformative relationship with Him.

The Bible says, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6. Monday evenings you will find many of our students gathered together in the lobby for voluntary Bible study. Early each morning you will find small groups of students in both dorms, studying their Bibles and praying together.

Wisconsin Academy is God's school, our students are God's children, and we seek God's guidance as we continue to nurture that relationship.

It is a thrilling experience to watch students' lives be changed for God, through worships, weeks of prayer and weekends of spiritual emphasis, mission trips, service opportunities, Bible classes, and healthy relationships with fellow students and staff. The wife of one of our visiting speakers, Igdaly Patel commented, "It was amazing to witness these students' desire to want to read and understand God's word and its truth. Their yearning to live a life of purity and to follow God's counsel...was inspirational."

The only way we will be ready to stand for God in these last days is by having a strong relationship with Jesus through Bible study, prayer and sharing His love with others. "The greatest want of the world is the want of men - men who will not be bought or sold; men who in their inmost souls are true and honest; men who do not fear to call sin by its right name; men whose conscience is as true to duty as the needle to the pole; men who will stand for the right though the heavens fall." EGW, Education, p. 57

Thank you for your support as we begin this new school year. We ask for your continued prayers as we seek to follow God's leading.

Rosalie Rasmussen, principal
Wisconsin Academy

Wisconsin Academy students, staff, family, and church members rejoiced with all of heaven as four students were baptized this summer. Sophomores James Hamilton, Bryce Ladwig, and junior Devonte Lee were baptized by pastor Jonathan Fetrick at the W.A. chapel. Senior Caleb Crownover chose to be baptized at camp meeting where his family could attend and his home church pastor, Ron Kelly, could baptize him. We praise God for pastor Fetrick who studied with these four young men, and for the students, staff, and family members who have studied with, encouraged, and prayed all the way.
